WHAT LEAD TO LEADD

LOST & FOUND
The Founders of iLeadership have had the opportunity to closely work and observe the leaders (corporate & political) from variety of statures and fields. They made a few observations during their tenure with leaders:
Most of these leaders, as they grow in their career paths, become less accessible to the people they began their journey with. The people who supported them in their nascent stages are often left behind.
Despite of having so many tools for communication, social networking, instant messaging etc, the actual gist of the message gets lost in the technological whirlpool. The founders of iLeadership senses a gap and an opportunity here.

LACKING THE PERSONAL TOUCH
The world has become smaller yet the distances grew!!
With the rise of mobile phones and penetration of internet, the connectivity becomes easier, and so does the risk of being misinterpreted. The messages are perceived as per the mental & intellectual standards of the receiver and not intention of the sender.
As the circle of influence grows, personal meetings and sessions are replaced with emails and texts, further to be replaced by social media broadcasts. Due to the lack of personal touch, the familiarity and affinity gets diluted.

THE (ANTI) SOCIAL MEDIA & THE FEAR OF MISSING OUT (FOMO)
The chaos is such that everyone is shouting and no one hears anyone else!
Due to the digital revolution, everyone is now-days obligated to be present on the leading social media platforms. All these platforms promise the interaction and engagement with different types and for different audiences. Since these platforms are open with very low regards on the authenticity & verification of the users, the pool of people becomes homogeneous and chaotic. Anyone can interact, defame, demoralise a leader or his communique, simultaneously hiding their identity. Keeping the mushrooming pseudo social media activists into light, any sentence is subject to unwanted scrutiny and slander.
Given this situation even those who are genuinely interested in knowing the thoughts, philosophies of their leaders, can't find it. By the time, they refresh their feeds, the whole discussion might have already spiralled into a new dimension.
Managing variety of social media channels, catering to different categories of audiences present on those channels and creating customised contents so that the engagement is maintained is one of the biggest industry currently, yet the reputation and public persona of a leader is hardly deemed safeguarded.

PURPOSE OF LEAD
Building a digital platform to bring people & technology together

IMPACT OF LEAD
You will now manage your brand image with style technology, also get perceived as an innovation-savvy leader

ROADMAP OF LEAD
From Popularity to Admiration, upto being an Inspiration

LEADERSHIP A NEED TO EVOLVE

"THEY FAILED TO COMMUNICATE; AND THUS, TO CONNECT! AS THEY SAY, LEADERS ARE NOT BORN, THEY ARE MADE."

In the present era, the key factor is how clearly, they convey their ideologies and thoughts within their circle, team or country. This is irrespective of the background, family, financial or political stature. Whether the audience will be interested or apathetic is completely derived from what they see, hear and perceive about a leader from variety of sources.
In today's world where everyone is busy; the average attention span is merely 5 seconds. Therefore, the communication has to be customised so that it is relevant, clear and desired.
The right message should reach the right audience at the right time.
Therefore, when it came to bring their own tech-innovation in the industry, the first and foremost idea that the founders of iLeadership had, was to create powerful yet simple communication tool that would solve the challenges for a leader, irrespective of his circle of influence's size, geographic spread and time barriers. In order to create a direct, simple and unadorned communication conduit for a leader and his circle, iLeadership Technologies & LEADD was brought into existence.

ABOUT iLeadership

We are the new age technovisionaries on the block, who exuberate the equilibrium of modern ideologies, technology and deep rooted strength of experience; culminating from cross-industry expertise.

Our Focus is to provide innovative, functional and simple solutions to manage interactions in the ecosystem for a leader and their circle of influences. We are on a mission to build a technologically intelligent, yet simple tool which would enable the leaders to communicate with people who matter. We are holistic solutions provider. For transforming leaders of tomorrow by enhancing & optimizing the engagement, between people and Leaders.

Enabling #LeadTheChange is our mantra; which is a long-awaited game changing digital revolution.

VISION
Bringing people and technology together into an exclusive community to connect, empower and simplify digital communications ecosystem.

MISSION
We provide the leaders and professionals with a simple, customizable and highly efficient communication tool, that blends with their objectives and amplify the ripple of their influence. The digital community that enables them to lead with affinity, clarity, control, relevance and differentiation.
As an organization, we are young, innovative and hungry for more. We encourage bold ideas and together we have embarked on the journey of designing the new era of digital communications.
